INTEREST AND EXPERIENCE IN PLASTIC SURGERY

I developed an interest in Plastic Surgery during my internship when I worked with a plastic surgeon in a leprosy reconstruction camp. I joined the plastic surgery training programme in Mumbai, India following 3 years of general surgery training. I enjoyed my basic plastic surgery training in King Edward Memorial Hospital, Bombay and passed the M.Ch (Plastic Surgery) examination. I had an opportunity to do clinical fellowship in the Department of Plastic Surgery at the Tata Memorial Cancer Hospital, Bombay, which gave me a wide exposure of head and neck reconstruction. I had the good fortune of doing a short-term fellowship in the Department of Plastic Surgery at the Sahlgrenska Hospital, Goteborg, Sweden, and St. Markus Hospital, Frankfurt, Germany, as a travelling fellow of the Association of Plastic Surgeons of India. This gave me a wide exposure in cosmetic surgery, breast reconstruction, cleft and craniofacial surgery. I entered a second cycle of plastic surgery training in the United Kingdom and completed Higher Surgical Training and achieved the CCST in March, 2005. I have a wide range of experience in skin oncology, hand trauma, lower limb trauma, craniofacial and cleft and head and neck surgery, paediatric plastic surgery, microsurgery, aesthetic plastic surgery and breast reconstruction during my training in the United Kingdom.

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE IN PLASTIC SURGERY

Aesthetic Plastic Surgery:

I gained extensive training in aesthetic plastic surgery as a clinical fellow at the Sahlgrenska Hospital Gutenberg (Sweden), St Marcus Hospital Frankfurt (Germany) and higher surgical training program rotating in various plastic surgical units in UK. My commitment at Golden Jubilee Hospital Glasgow (UK) as a consultant plastic surgeon involved predominantly aesthetic surgery for a period of six years.

I am in private practice in London for the last eight years performing aesthetic facial and body contouring surgery.

Melanoma and Skin Cancer:

I gained a unique exposure of multidisciplinary team management of melanoma and skin cancer in the largest melanoma centre in the United Kingdom at St. George's Hospital. This included 'hands on' operative experience of sentinel node biopsy, lymph node dissections and reconstruction of defects following wide local excision of skin cancer. I had an opportunity to manage patients in the Combined Plastic, Radiology and Dermatology (PRD) clinics and participated in the multidisciplinary melanoma meetings.

Head and Neck Surgery:

Tata Memorial Cancer Hospital, Bombay, is the largest cancer hospital in India for multidisciplinary cancer treatment. I was fortunate to do a fellowship in the Plastic and Reconstructive Department and had 'hands on' experience in reconstruction of defects following cancer excision, particularly in the head/neck region. I continued gaining extensive exposure to head and neck reconstruction during my general plastic surgery training in Oxford, Liverpool, Sheffield, Hull and Exeter.

Breast Reconstruction:

I have vast 'hands on' experience in primary as well as secondary breast reconstruction in various Plastic Surgery Units in the United Kingdom. I have attended advanced courses on breast reconstruction organised by the British Association of Plastic Surgery. I have also attended an Autologous Breast Reconstruction and Perforated Based Flap Course in Munich.

Paediatric Plastic Surgery:

I acquired extensive exposure to paediatric plastic surgery at the Great Ormond Street Hospital, London, as well as Sheffield Children's Hospital, Sheffield. This included cleft lip and palate, craniofacial surgery, congenital hand, ear reconstruction, vascular malformations and congenital urogenital surgery.

GENERAL PLASTIC SURGERY AND TRAUMA

United Kingdom:

I enjoyed working as Registrar/Senior Registrar in plastic surgery in various units in the U.K. I had an opportunity to upgrade my training in general plastic surgery, major reconstructive procedures, microvascular surgery, hypospadias, breast reconstruction and oculoplastic surgery. I continued to manage emergencies and general plastic surgery problems independently, becoming exposed to different approaches.

India:

The King Edward Memorial Hospital, Bombay, is a teaching hospital having 60 beds for plastic surgery and 12 beds for acute burns. I learnt the basic techniques of plastic surgery including skin grafts, local flaps, management of burns, acute hand injuries, maxillofacial trauma, lower limb reconstruction and reconstruction of post burn deformities. I was involved in participating in reconstruction of congenital and acquired hand and face deformities. I participated in microvascular flaps, limb and digit re-implantations and craniofacial surgery. During my training in plastic surgery, I passed my Masters Examination in Bombay University.

RECONSTRUCTIVE SURGERY IN THE DEVELOPING WORLD AND FOUNDATION OF HEALTH SMILE CHARITY TRUST UK.

I visit India and Bangladesh on a regular basis, for providing plastic and reconstructive surgery services to underprivileged people in the rural communities. I am also involved in training the local surgens, with a view that they could continue with reconstructive work independently.

This includes reconstructive surgery for the victims of burns and trauma, as well as repairing the cleft lip and palate deformities in children and young adults.

I have been involved in this activity for the last 20 years. We formalised this work under the umbrella of Help Smile Trust UK from 2009 onwards, which provides financial help for health and education to uderpriviledged people in the developing world. This charity is registered with the Charity commission of United Kingdom.

I am a founder trustee of the organisation,

MANAGEMENT:

I enjoyed the responsibilities of administration in the Department of Plastic Surgery as ‘Administrative Specialist Registrar’ (1999) at the Northern General Hospital, Sheffield. This involved close liaison with 7 consultants, junior doctors, nurse managers and secretarial staff of the unit. I regularly attended the CMT meetings of the department.

Organised a course on ‘dealing with customers’ complaints’ (1999) for plastic surgery juniors.

Attended the Management Course for the Senior Specialist Registrars hosted by the Post-Graduate Dean, Sheffield.

MANAGEMENT (contd.)

Organised Symposium for Cleft Surgery at the Northern General Hospital, Sheffield, inviting Dr. Jan Lilia (Consultant Plastic Surgeon and Editor of Scandinavian Journal of Plastic Surgery) as the guest speaker.

Organised a course for A&E Nurse Practitioners and Doctors entitled 'Management for Plastic Surgery Trauma in A & E (2000).' This was attended by 70 delegates from the hospitals of North Trent Region.

'Co-ordinator' for the Intercollegiate Examination Board (FRCS- Plastic Surgery) hosted by the department (2000) and FRCS General Surgery Examination (2001).

Organised multidisciplinary Lower Limb Trauma Meetings for Plastic Surgeons, Orthopaedic Surgeons and Physiotherapists.

Organised 'Cleft lip and Palate Symposium' for Higher Surgical Training at the Royal College of Surgeons of England, London (2002-2004).

Produced an induction book for the plastic surgery trainees at the Great Ormond Street Hospital.

I have been heavily involved since 2007 onwards in supervising the clinical contents of my private practice and my charity related websites.
