Ammar Allouni

Consultant Plastic, Reconstructive and Aesthetic surgeon

MBBCh, MSC, MRCS Eng, FRCS (Plast)

Provider of surgical and non-surgical cosmetic procedures

Mr. Allouni is a fully accredited UK plastic surgeon and is on the General Medical Council's specialist register for Plastic surgery. He is a member of the British Association of Plastics, Reconstructive and Aesthetics Society (BAPRAS) and CAPSCO. He completed my Bachelor in medicine and surgery in 2004 and his Masters in Science in 2008 in Cairo University Hospitals and started my plastic surgery training abroad before moving to the United Kingdom in 2008 to seek higher surgical training. He worked in multiple plastic surgery units, including Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham and the University Hospital of North Durham, before being enrolled in the Yorkshire and the Humber Deanery rotation for higher plastic surgery raining. He was trained by plastic surgery consultants who are leaders in the fields of plastic, reconstructive and aesthetic surgery both in Yorkshire units as well as other units in the UK.

He is a substantive consultant plastic and reconstructive surgery at Hull University Teaching Hospitals with special interest in Breast and lower limb microsurgical reconstruction as he had his advanced fellowship training at University Hospitals of South Manchester. During his over 14 years of plastic surgery experience, he was trained by leading aesthetic surgeons in the UK and abroad. This was complemented by joining the CAPSCO Aesthetic Fellowship programme at the centre of excellence Wood Medispa in Devon. He offers a wide range of aesthetic surgeries, including breast, facial and body contouring procedures for both males and females. He is very enthusiastic and he believes that patient safety is paramount and can only be achieved by well informed and individualised care. I also believe that this can only be done through team working in safe professional environment.

Apart from his aesthetic work in the private sector, He enjoys his NHS practice where his main practice is focused around breast reconstruction for patients having mastectomies due to breast cancer, skin cancer excision, managing difficult trauma and reconstructive cases.
